Privacy Policy - TRADESPRO LLC
Release Date: October 24th, 2025
Firm Registration Date: July 29th, 2025

Purpose & Overview

This Privacy Policy outlines how TradesPro LLC collects, uses, shares, and protects your personal information in the course of delivering investment advisory services. We recognize the sensitivity of the information you share with us and are committed to handling it responsibly, in accordance with applicable laws and industry standards.

Legal Basis and Authority

This Privacy Policy is provided in accordance with the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA) and SEC Regulation S-P (17 CFR Part 248), which govern the privacy practices of registered investment advisers. TradesPro LLC is also subject to oversight by the Texas State Securities Board, which enforces similar privacy obligations. These laws require us to explain our information-sharing practices and to protect your personal information.
The purpose of this document is to:

- Provide transparency about the types of information we collect and how it is used
- Explain your privacy rights and choices under U.S. and Texas law
- Describe our practices for protecting your information

This Policy applies to all clients and prospective clients of TradesPro LLC. By engaging in our services or visiting our website, you consent to the practices described here.

Our Commitment to You

At TradesPro LLC ("TradesPro," "we," "our," or "us"), your trust is our most valuable asset. We are committed to safeguarding your personal information and using it responsibly. This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, and protect your information as your investment advisor, including through our website ("Site").

We do not sell your information, and we only share it for business purposes essential to delivering our services. This policy applies to all clients and prospective clients whose personal data we collect and manage.

Why You Should Read This

As a Registered Investment Advisor (RIA), we are required by federal and state law to share certain personal information to service your accounts. This Policy outlines:

- What information we collect
- How we use it
- When we share it
- Your rights under U.S. laws

We are transparent about how your data is handled and committed to honoring your rights and preferences.

Changes to This Policy

We provide this Privacy Policy to you annually while you maintain a relationship with us. If we make material changes, we'll provide a revised version before sharing information in a new way, giving you the opportunity to opt out if required.

What Information We Collect

We collect both public and non-public personal information to provide advisory services. This includes:

- Full name, address, phone number, email
- Social Security or taxpayer ID
- Date of birth, marital status, age, gender
- Financial data: income, assets, liabilities, account balances
- Investment goals and experience

- Ongoing transactions and communications

How We Use Your Information

We use your data to:

- Deliver and manage your investment advisory services
- Communicate with you and respond to inquiries
- Provide access to secure areas of our Site
- Comply with legal and regulatory requirements
- Prevent fraud or unauthorized use
- Conduct data analysis and improve our services
- Perform administrative or planning activities

If we plan to use your information for any new purposes, we will notify you and obtain your consent when required.

Our Legal Basis for Processing

We process your information under the following legal bases:

- Consent: Where you've freely given permission
- Contract: To fulfill our obligations under an agreement
- Legal Obligation: To meet compliance and regulatory duties
- Legitimate Interests: To deliver and improve services in ways that do not override your rights

How We Share Information

We only share your personal information with third parties when necessary and in accordance with law. We may disclose your data:

- To custodians, brokers, attorneys, accountants, insurers, and other professionals involved in your advisory relationship
- To regulators or legal authorities when required
- With service providers under strict confidentiality agreements

We do not:

- Sell your information
- Share it for marketing purposes with unaffiliated third parties
- Disclose information about former clients (handled same as current clients)

Cookie Policy - Purpose & Overview

This Cookie Policy describes how TRADESPRO LLC (referred to as "TRADESPRO," "our," "us," or "we," as the case may be) collects and uses cookies about our clients and/or prospective clients ("you" or "your") through our website ("Site").

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that is downloaded on to your computer when you visit a website. Cookies are used by many websites and can do a number of things, e.g., remembering your preferences, and counting the number of people looking at a website.

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies on this Site for the following purposes:

- Analytical purposes: Analytical cookies allow us to recognize, measure and track visitors to our Site. This helps us to improve and develop the way our Site works, for example, by determining whether site visitors can find information easily, or by identifying the aspects of the site that are of the most interest to them.
- Usage preferences: Some of the cookies on our Site are activated when visitors to our sites make a choice about their usage of the site. Our Site then 'remembers' the settings preferences of the user concerned. This allows us to tailor aspects of the site to the individual user.
- Terms and conditions: We use cookies on our Site to record when a site visitor has seen a policy, such as this one, or provided consent, such as consent to the terms and conditions on our Site. This helps to improve the user's experience of our Site – for example, it avoids a user from repeatedly being asked to consent to the same terms.
- Session management: This type of cookie helps the website track internet usage. Session cookies are temporary and are deleted from your machine when your web browser closes.
- Functional purposes: Functional purpose cookies store information that is needed by our applications to process and operate. For example, where transactions or requests within an application involve multiple workflow stages, cookies are used to store the information from each stage temporarily, in order to facilitate completion of the overall transaction or request.
- Third party cookies. When you visit our Site, you may receive cookies that are set by third parties. These cookies may be used for the purposes described in the bullet points above. We do not control the setting of these third party cookies, so we suggest you might wish to check the third party websites for more information about their use of cookies and how to manage them.

Your Consent

By continuing to use our Site, you are agreeing to our placing cookies on your computer in order to analyze the way you use our Site. Please read this Cookie Policy carefully for more details about the information we collect when you use our Site.
If you do not wish to accept cookies in connection with your use of this Site, you must stop using our Site or withdraw your consent as stipulated below.

Withdraw Your Consent:
You may withdraw your consent at any time by adjusting your internet browser settings to delete all cookies. If you do this, however, you may have to manually adjust some your internet browser preferences every time you visit a website. Adjusting these settings may cause some services and functionalities not to work.

Amending Internet browser settings to disable cookies. You can configure your browser to: send accept all cookies, reject all cookies, notify you when a cookie is set, delete cookies, open a 'private browsing' / 'incognito' session, which allows you to browse the internet without storing local data; and install add-ons and plug-ins to extend browser functionality.

Each browser is different, so check the "Help" menu of your browser to learn how to change your cookie preferences. You are always free to decline our cookies if your browser permits, although in that case you may not be able to use certain features on our Site. In addition, a number of companies offer utilities designed to help you visit websites anonymously.
